In regard to the use of stars on the service flags the following may be of interest. The information was compiled and sent out by the Woman's Committee, National Council of Defense:

The stars—blue, gold and silver: A blue star is used to represent each person, man or woman, in the military or naval service of the United States. Several methods have been suggested for representation of those invalided, wounded or killed in service. The following is believed to state the consensus of opinion and accepted usage:

For those killed in action a gold star will be substituted for a blue star, or superimposed on it in such manner as to entirely cover it. The idea of the gold star is that the honor and glory accorded to the person for his supreme sacrifice in offering up for his country his "last full measure of devotion," and the pride of the family in it, rather than the sense of personal loss, which would be represented by a mourning symbol, even though white were to be used instead of black. For those wounded in action a silver star will be substituted for the blue star or superimposed on it in such manner as to entirely cover it. The use of the star in this manner would be limited to those entitled to the wound chevron, which is awarded to those receiving wounds in action with the enemy or disabled by a gas attack, necessitating treatment by a medical officer.

Christmas boxes to be used in sending things to the soldiers abroad have been received at the Red Cross rooms of the Walhalla Branch, and any one wanting to procure a box can do so by applying at the rooms of the local branch. The rooms are open Friday and Saturday of each week from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Cincinnati Man Discovers Drug that Loosens Corns So they Lift Out.

Good news spreads rapidly, and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any store which handles drugs, but this is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn or toughened callus, and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn or callus is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance, which dries when applied, and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.—adv.

TAKE NO ADVANTAGE OF FOE

Feudists in Italy and South America
Display Sense of Chivalry That Is Remarkable.

Before one can truly realize the terrible depravity to which human nature can occasionally descend one has to obtain just an inkling into that horror of horrors known by the name "vendetta." The misery, the suffering, the fear sometimes engendered by these awful feuds it is impossible to paint in language too denunciatory, observes a writer in London Answers.

A gentleman not long returned from South America described the other day the end of a vendetta he once had the misfortune to witness in the Boca (lowest quarter) of Buenos Aires. The antagonists had their knives strapped to their hands so that the weapons could not possibly drop from their fingers, however badly injured they became. Before the police had separated them one of the luckless combatants had received no less than 17 wounds. On being examined it was discovered that this individual had a loaded revolver in his belt.

"Whyever did you not use your fire arm?" asked the prefect of police.
"No; it was a fight with knives," explained the other, with a gasp, and the next moment he sank unconscious to the ground.

In Naples, where warning of a vendetta is almost invariably given in private, a member of the Camorra is sometimes called in to settle a dispute, and in this way occasionally what might otherwise have been a brutal feud ends in the chink of glasses at a sumptuous banquet. If a Camorrist meets his death at the hands of a foe it becomes the bounden duty of some other member of the Camorra to avenge it, notice being almost invariably given to the relatives of the deceased that it is absolutely unnecessary for them to take any steps in the matter whatever.

In Naples, curiously enough, the sympathy of the people is much more with the murderer in these cases than with the victim, judging that if he had had no grievance the former would never have bared his blade; and it is quite surprising how far people are prepared to go in order to protect him from the police.

It is an unwritten law among the hot-blooded races among whom the vendetta still exists that, in an open street fight, no adversary must be assailed with a knife until he has had time to unclasp his own.

Not the least extraordinary feature of several of the vendettas is the refusal on the part of its dying victims to disclose the name of those who have mortally wounded them.

Samuel K. Neville Found Dead.

Just as we go to press this morning, word comes to us of the death of Samuel K. Neville, of West Union, which occurred at the Neville home, it is supposed, about 5 o'clock.

Mr. Neville complained of feeling a little unwell last night and consulted his physician, but did not appear to be seriously ill. This morning one of the members of the family went to see about him and found him sleeping his last sleep.

Mr. Neville was the eldest of the four brothers living in West Union, and was about 55 years of age. He was a son of the late Capt. John C. Neville.

At this hour funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Bits of Big News.

Germans are Fast Fleeing.

London, Nov. 5.—The Germans are retreating on a 75-mile front, from the river Scheldt to the river Aisne.

In the face of the German retreat the situation changes so rapidly hour by hour that it is impossible to give a definite idea of the Allied advance.

Must Go to Marshal Foch.

London, Nov. 5.—The Allies have decided that Germany must apply to Marshal Foch, the Allied commander-in-chief, for an armistice, according to the announcement of Premier Lloyd-George in the House of Commons.

Whatever Germany's reply may be, the associated powers await the issue with perfect confidence.

Claim Democratic Gains.

Washington, Nov. 5.—Increased democratic majorities in both the Senate and House were claimed late to-night by Homer S. Cummings, acting chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"The returns thus far received indicate that the country has given the President a splendid indorsement," said Mr. Cummings. "The Senate and the House are both Democratic by increased majorities. Smith has been elected governor of New York by a very large plurality, probably about $75,000."

Republicans Also Make Claim.

New York, Nov. 5.—At 11 o'clock to-night, the Congressional returns, still barely half complete, showed a gain of four seats for the republicans in the house.

The Senatorial returns, less than one-third complete, showed a gain of one seat for the republicans, but the defeat of Senator Thompson, of Kansas, by Governor Capper.

Cub Bear Caused Excitement.

A cub bear, about ten months old, caused much excitement at Moose Lake, Minn., the other day when it walked into town and scratched at the back door of a local restaurant. The cook thought it was the owner's dog. Her discovery that it was not began a series of activities in the kitchen which could have been equaled only by the bursting of a high explosive shell. When the cause of the disturbance was learned the men of the town formed an escort and drove the cub back to its haunts. Bears are protected by law and for that reason it was not killed.

Card of Thanks.

Editor Keowee Courier:
Please allow us space in your paper to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends for the many deeds of kindness shown us during the sickness and at the death of our dear husband and father, T. E. Sanders; and we wish to thank the noble physician who so faithfully attended him; and we also feel thankful for the beautiful floral offerings. May God's richest blessings rest upon each and every one of these kind friends and neighbors.

Great Majestic

The Nation's needs come first

The U. S. Government must have metal for ships, munitions, guns. Help win the war by helping to save iron and steel—don't buy a new range now unless you must. Put the old range in good repair, and get along with it another year. If you can't, then buy a Majestic—the range that saves fuel because it is heat-tight, saves food because it bakes right, saves repairs because it is built of unbreakable malleable iron and rust-resisting charcoal iron.

Submarine mines are usually cylindrical in shape, some four feet in diameter. They are not made larger owing to the difficulty of handling, and are quite too large to contain a charge sufficient to sink great ships.
